TABLE OF SUPPLEMENTED L.R.A. NOTES

SUPPLEMENTED L.R.A. NOTES.

In the first column of this table, arranged in order of volumes and pages, will be found those L.R.A. notes that have been supplemented in subsequent volumes of L.R.A., both old and new series, and opposite them, in the parallel column, appear the supplementary notes.

In every instance, whether all or only part of a note has been supplemented, the initial page of that note appears in proper sequence in the left hand column. Figures in parenthesis following the initial page, on the same line or on the next indented line, refer to a later page of the same note and indicate that only the part or subdivision of the note which begins on that page is supplemented by the corresponding note in the right hand column. In a few instances, a word or phrase in parenthesis has been used to indicate the part of the note that has been supplemented.

This table is for quick reference by one who is using any L.R.A. note and wishes to know on the instant whether or not it has been supplemented later. It is not in any sense a substitute for the Index to Notes. In addition to annotation which specifically supplements an earlier note, other kindred, collateral, or closely related annotations may be found in the Index to Notes which will prove very valuable.
